TURF AT FAIR GROUNDS BY CRIMEAN. TWO TRACK RECORDS BROKEN BASEBALL CARDINALS WIN FROM NEW YORK AND BROWNS DEFEAT CLEVELAND.

GANS WINS LIGHT-WEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP BY KNOCKING OUT ERNE.

CRIMEAN BREAKS

Mn. Hayes's Cott Galloped a Mile and Seventy Yards in 1:43 1:2 at Fair Grounds.

SCHWALBE SHOULD HAVE WON.

Mr. Schrefber's Filly Was Badly Bidden or She Probably Would Have Beaten the Hayes Crack.

Crimean, Tom Hayer's 2-year-old colt, by Cayuga-Challee, knocked the mile and the mile and seventy yards track' records sky high at the Fair Grounds yesterday. He galloped the mile in 1:39% and the mile and

This out one-quarter of a second off the track record for the mile and one-half of a second off the track record for a mile and seventy yards. He had % pounds up, and won by half a length from Mr. Schreiber's fast filly. Schwalbe, who was carrying the same weight and giving Crimean the sex allowance of 3 pounds.

Crimean set all his own pace. His six furiongs was done in 1:14, and his seven furiongs in 1:25, within half a second of the track record for that distance. Maximum of the track record for that distance. the track record for that distance. Man-mus was the favorite at 13 to 16. Crimean was second choice at 11 to 5. Schwalbe stood third in favor at 4 to 1. Wax Taper was at 15s, and it was any price against the others.

stood third in favor at 4 to 1. Wax Taper was at 15s, and it was any price against the others.

Crimean jumped out and took the track. O'Neill let him run just as he wished. He drew out five lengths on the back stretch. Here is where Golden lost the race for Schwalbe. The Schreiber filly was galloping, under a stiff pull. There never was a part of the route when she could not have gone to Crimean. Golden let Crimean steal too big a lead. When he did set Schwalbe down at the three-eighths pole she climbed right to the big horse in front, and seemed a certain winner at the eighth pole. Crimean was tiring and quitting while she was coming. Golden drew his whip and let go her head. She wavered and swerved, and it was Crimean's race. O'Neill had sense enough to sit still and hang on. That was all. Maximus, who looked peaked and tucked, was put to a drive to stall off Odnor for show money. It was a good race, though the filly should have won.

Also Ran II, a Charleston beauty, threw race-goers into a fit when he landed the first event from a rare lot of "dogs" in the good time of 1:27%—almost as good a race as the third, which Jake Weber won in 1:27% Also Ran II was as good as 50 to 1 in some books, even if they were "pluggers." Sam Pack, who owns him, did not think he was quitte up to a race.

Royal Athlete was a good thing in the second race. He should have wen by a block. He was walking home with the money man of the proper stream of the money. Royal Athlete was much the best.

It looked really funny to see Kirby Orr the money. Royal Athlete was much the best.

It looked really funny to see Kirby Orr sending Grantor out to make the pace, but he did it in the third race, Grantor always could finish. When he was so far in front at the start, every one thought he would be first sure. Of course, he backed up, Jake Weber came along, well ridden, and won going away. Nearest finished fast, and Lilian M, came like a whiriwind at the end.

Wakita salloped home in the fifth event very easily, as her race back of A. D. Gibson the other day pressed she would. Eloim woke up with a jolt here and ran second. This reversal of form brought Judge Brady to his loss. Last time out Eloim was ridden by poor old Chick Neel, once a rattling good jockey, now a "has-been." There was nothing stirring that day, and Eloim was an lee wagon. Yesterday she was an express train with Johnsle Dugan up, Mr. Brady suspended poor Neel indefinitely. Too bad he did not go and get the people who make it worth Neel's while to get up. For putting him up is all of it. He cannot do more than sit still nowadays. Semicolon ran a good third. Bill Massie, the biggest bluff that ever are oats, was nowhere.

Hayland won the sixth race all the way, and was well ridden. There was a plunge on The Boer, who was a good enough Canadian horse last year, but he could not make good. He looked right ready, too. Hayland had all the speed ran a good race, and was well handled. Belle Simpson was much used in making early pace. She likes to run at the end. Zazel finished fast, and will do better next time out. It was a day of good sport and fast time.

year-old race at the Fair Grounds can be reasonably forecasted. With eight horses in at a half mile, one feels like doing business. On her race at feur and a half furlongs with Oleflant, Aveid ought to do today, though Grand Shot must not be overlooked. This lady is not barrier wise and hates to break. She was worried by early interference in the Debutante Stakes and will close up to-day. But Avoid showed such good speed that she ought to do to-day, as the race must have aided her and the distance is shorter. Truly, Avoid looks like a good bet.

Zirl looks as much like a winner as any member of a fourteen-basse field can. They scratched Concertina yesterday, doubtless because they like her chances to-day. Lelia Barr is fit and fast. Only a millionaire would bet on this race.

J. K. Hughes has been sending his sprinters over a route with success. Look what he did with Salinda! How about Tenny Belle to-day with a feather on ber? She has not been showing speed in sprints, which leads one to imagine that the sly
Mr. Hughes has been working her overroutes just to drop her in here. Menace is not good just now, and it looks like the Hughes filly.
Sister Sarah ought to get Gil Curry some of the money.

Start good; won easily: second driving. Winner: S. Pack's b. g. 6. Panique—Waiting II. Also Ran at once went to the front, laid with the leaders to the stretch, then came away easily. Locaps, away in a tangle, made up much ground, but was tiring at the finish. Doeskin ran an even race and finished well. Tartar closed fast in the run home. Rose of Red was well ridden in a good position, had no mishaps, but tired at the stretch. Frank Pearce had an easy race and can do better. Doctor Nowlin showed a brilliant flash, but closed up. Zanette, Star Vall and Alalia had early speed, but stopped at five furlongs. A very bad lot.

Start good: won easily: second same. Winner: W. W. Finn's ch. f. 2. Halma-Gretchen. Maggle Clopton was well ridden, the shortest way, came fast in the stretch. Royal Athlete was salloping in when C'Nelli let him stop to a walk through overconfidence. He was much the best. Lynch showed a smart turn of speed, but thred very soon. Mada Bell had speed for a cuarter, is very high in firsh and hardly ready. Nellie Bawn ran an even race. The crowding at the start makes the form of the last six valueless.

Start good; won easily; second driving. Winner: P. U. Civill's br. s., E. Kingston-Carmendra. Weber well rated in the early pace, came first around the stretch turn and won going away. He ran a much-improved race. Nearest, jammed at Start, closed ground gradually and came very fast at the finish. Lilian M. ran a good race, was in close quarters all the way and finished gamely. Grantor had unusually early speed, but failed to run as usual in the stretch. Evidently a bit short. Goal Runners race was a bad one. San Lazarus and Ben O'Fallen were squeezed out at start. Nyx did not seem to be in her best racing form and went to the post dull and dry. Van Hoorebeek stumbled at start.

be in the money. They say Very Light is a good mare through the field but she has not shown it. It is hard to see them beating A. D. Gibson in the fourth race, though. Four Leaf C is a good horse and can run at bit. She has been beginnin fast, too, something she did not use to do. Gibson is due to lose a race. He cannot be lucky all the time so a bet at a price on Four Leaf C ought not to go astray.

Levinthan looks well in the last event but Fellx Bard has been rested a bit and Kisma ran a good race last time out. If Love's Labor is fit but he hardly is so, let him go. It looks like Felix Bard, Kisme with Le-viathan up there.

It is the best betting card of the meeting. You can bet on every race on the card with some hope of winning.

GOSSIP OF THE QUARTER STRETCH. Bennett and Bis Derby Colts-First Run-Up of Season.

George Bennett, owner of the exploded phenomenon, the clawless bear, the horn-less buil, the toothless lion, Abe Frank, was less buil, the toothless lion, Abe Frank, was at the track yesterday. Mr. Bennett still thinks that Abe Frank will win the American Derby. While he may be worth a show bet in the dellar book it is hard to see him in the money in the Owensboro Derby, which will be run naxt fall. Mr. Bennett also stated that Aladdin would start in the St. Louis Derby. This is a better kind of a derby horse than Abe Frank, but his picture chasing Crimean will look good.

The first run up of the season took place yesterday. L. A. Thompson ran up Jake Weber 200 on Pat Civili. It is an echo of last year's troubles, when Cavili took Weber away from Sam Wagner. for whom Thompson was training at the time. Mr. Civili retained the handy Kingston gelding for $1,100, but he lost the purse.

The first suspension of the year also took place yesterday when Jockey Neel was turned down indefinitely for a bad ride on Eloim last week. There was a time when Neel was a first-class rider. Time, wine and song and the things that go with them put the good boy away and now he cannot ride, even if he wanted to. Eloim had Dugan up yesterday and ran like a live one.

Maximus looked ill—a bit drawn—yester-day. He did not run his race. He was pocketed to the stretch, then had to come through in close quarters on the rail. He just did get up in time to show.

Schwalbe is a grand little filly. She gave Crimesn weight, was choked in the back stretch and put him to a drive to stall her off at the end. She ran the last eighth of the soven forlongs in nothing, as she closed four lengths on the Hayes horse coming around the turn. She tired and hung a bit in the stretch, but had Golden let his whip alone she probably would have run. He let so of her head to hit her and she swerved and weakened. Had he held her steady and ridden she might have landed. Up to the time he went to bat she was overhauling Crimean steadily.

Poor old-Wax Taper. This time one year ago he was the best handicap horse in America. It was pitful to see him trying to keep within halling distance of his field in the fourth race yesterday. He tried for all he was worth, but could not quite make it.

O'Neill's ride on Royal Athlete was a ter-ror. The colt was walking home in front when the boy became overconfident and let him stop almost to a walk. Dugan kept drumming Maggle Clopton, and she got up in good time.

nme jumps like a bird in the air ras lame last time the writer aw looked big indeed. Terry Ranger's was good stough to win for him iden Link and W. H. Dison should the pikers busy yesterday. It was not her day. When real good they used to have to put a touch in her, too. Before she will let the lockey up, and when he does get up, she always tries to make a steeplechase course out of grand stand, paddock and clubhouse.

Mada Bell had speed for a yard or two yesterday, but was too fat. She will do when she gets ready. Zazel, looking very well, ran a nice race yesterday. She will do soon over a route. Watson used to be a bad boy when Tom Nepper had him, but in this lot he should be a Sloan.

Handsqueeze, who is carded to start in the steeplechase at the Fair Grounds this arternoon, is the Hanover-Squeeze coit George C. Bennett paid $5.50 for as a yearning. Handsqueeze coud not beat a fat man on the flat, but he developed into a first-rate jumper at Mempais, winning his last start over the jumps at Montgomery Park in handy fashion. Handsqueeze is the highest-priced yearing George Bennett ever bought. He was lame last week, but is said to be all right. This afternoon's event will be the second jumping race of the meeting. The horses will be asked to negotiate a course of one and one-half mies. Very Light, Mrs. Grannan and Gennerose will also start over the jumps at the Fair Grounds this afternoon. Mrs. Grannan and Very Light both belong to John S. Bratton, and are said to be thoroughly schooled jumpers. Very Light has already performed over the jumps on the Southern circuit.

George C. Bennett was favorably impressed with the improvements made by the new management, air, Bennett aiready has a division of his stable here, and will send more horses to the Fair Grounds at the conclusion of the Louisville meeting. He has all his crack 3-year-olds, Abe Frank, Aladdin, Blennenworth, Little Scout and Herodiade, in this year's St. Louis Derby. Mr. Bennett also has his crack 2-year-old, Mailory, in the Kindergarten Stakes, to be run at the Fair Grounds Saturday, May 24. Mallory is in the Junion Championship, to be run May II. Mallory is the Onondaga—Miss Thomas juvenile that showed so well early in the spring at Little Rock and Memphis.

MAGGIE DAVIS WON THE SPRINT.

Beat Ice King and Kenilworth After Other Good Ones Were Scratched. Chicago, May 12.—Maggie Davis, at II to San Andres. 1, easily won the fourth event at Worth to-day, defeating Ice King, Kenllworth, Jauday, defeating Ice King, Kenilworth, Jaubert, Scorpio and Tom Kingsley. ## JOE GANS AT LAST WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Baltimore Negro Light Weight Knocks Out Frank Erne in First Round at Fort Erie, Ont.

Ringside Fort Erie, Ontario, May 12 -- Joe Gans, the Baltimore negro light-weight pugilist, is champion in his class, after knocking at the door for the past ten years. Frank Erne lost to him in the first round to-night at Fort Erie.

The end came with startling suddenness. The men were scarcely warmed up when Gans, trying cautiously, eaught Erne napping and landed a hard right on the ear, which appeared to jar Erne badly. Erne sparred wildly, and Gans sent out a left jab as a feeler. It went home through Erne's guard, drawing blood from his nose. Then Gans rushed in. Erne's defense was pitiably weak and Gans slapped a left to the face and a right to the project of the the face and a right to the point of the jaw. The blow completely settled Erne. He sank slowly to the floor, fell on his back and was rolling over on his stomach when Referee White had finished counting him out.

Referee White had finished counting him out.

The quick defeat astonished the thousands of Erne men at the ringside. The Herford party was overwhelmed with congratulations, and a crowd of negroes proudly escorted Gans to his dressing-room.

"Of course," he said, "I did not expect to win so quickly, but I believe the end would have been the same had the fight gone much farther."

Herford said he would defend the lightweight championship at the light-weight limit.

weight championship at the light-weight limit.

Erne was broken-hearted over the defeat. When led to his corner it took in minute to bring him back from dreamland, and there were tears in his eyes when he realized his defeat one of Erne's seconds said:

"Gans will have to fight him again, for there was a fluke win if there ever was one."

"Yes." said Erne, springing to his feet, "we can't let it go at that. He's got to give me the chance I gave him."

He crossed the ring unsteadily, looking for Gans, but the negro and his crowd had left the ring.

He crossed the ring unsteadily, looking for Gans, but the negro and his crowd had left the ring.

The censensus of opinion by the experts at the ringside was that the fight was altogether too short to successfully determine the superiority of either man with the small gloves.

About midway through the tenth round McFarland showed a flash of speed, which for an instant looked as if it might turn the advantage his way. Stepping to meet Saunders as the latter came in, he sent a right to the negro's face with terrific right and left hooks and in a few exchanges he had the tide turned his way again.

Jabbing on McFarland's part and hard swinging and hooks by Saunders, together with a few uppercuts for the stomach which both men tried, were the styles of battle. Saunders showed extreme strength for a featherweight and frequently threw McFarland to the floor as he rushed into clinches. Trounds, the force of the negro's blows seeming to make hom dizzy, but at that he managed to get in one knockdown punch.

This was in the thirteenth when Saunders was following his usual tactics of rushing in. McFarland gathered all his energies and sent in a punch which knocked Billy flat to the floor with a bump, the only result, however, being to draw a broad smile from the negro. Saunder's eye was cut from a right hook from McRarland in the eight round while Eddie showed the effects of punishment badly at the close. His face was puffed and swollen, his eyes were both cloned until he had to look sideways to see and he bled from both nose and mouth in the codrese of the fighting. On one occasion, when the men humped into each other in a clinch, McFarland's scalp was cut slightly and blood ran down his face from the wound.

There was no question as to the decision at the close, although McFarland had many iy and blood ran down his face from the wound.

There was no question as to the decision at the close, although McFarland had many partisans among the spectators. Saunders's strength seemed unusual for a feather weight, and the easy manner in which he wrestled McFarland around in thec linches made it clearly apparent early in the fight which way the bout would go. Clever foot work on McFarland's part, and ability to duck many of Saunders's swings, alone saved him from a knockout.

The most singular feature of the fight was the apparently uneven lengths of the rounds. "Professor" Billy Clark served as a varied entertainment which she calls "Surprises" at the Columbia. First there is a plane overture by Alice Beach Mc-rounds. "Professor" Billy Clark served as timekeeper, and the crowd imagined that he was watching the fight instead of his watch, two or three of the rounds seeming to be about five minutes long. His attention was called to the matter by advice from the spectators.

In the second event c pogramme Dan Haley, an Omaha heavy weight, put out Jim Smith of New York before the latter had done more than feint and make one or two ineffectual leads, Haley half knocked and half pushed him down early in the first minute of fighting, and a few moments after doubled Smith up with a swing to the stomach, following it with a left to the jaw as Smith went down. He was counted out. Smith and Haley weighed in at 185 pounds, while Saunders and McFarland tipped the scales at 124.

TEXAS FIGHT ON ROOSEVELT.

Doctor Grant, Who Is Hanna's Friend, Starts Trouble.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Houston, Tex., May 12.-Doctor Grant of Sherman, who was removed from the mar-shalship of the District of Eastern Texas shaiship of the District of Eastern Texass recently by the President, is out for revenge. He asserts through a close friend that the removal was induced primarily by the fact that he refused to declare allegiance to the political fortunes of President Roosevelt, and that he was known to be a close friend of General Dick of Ohio, who is the chief lieutenant of Senator Hanna.

Doctor Grant further asserts that when Postmaster General Payre was made campaign manager for the Roosevelt boom he knew his days were numbered if Payne could find a way to get him out. Grant calls attention to the fact that State Chairman Cecil A. Lyons and National Committeeman Hawley have both declared for Roosevelt, and intimates that there will be a warm fight in Texas to prevent any Roosevelt delegates going from this State to the National Convention.

Doctor Grant was the original McKinley man in Texas, and did great work in landing a solid delegation pledged to the Ohioman in 1896. He has much influence among the "biack-and-tan" sement, which is none too satisfied with the way matters are now arranged, and if the President should appoint either of the former "illy whites" he is said to have in view to succeed Grant, the influence of the latter will be greatly strengthened. Grant will be a candidate for State chairman, a position of much power, and he will turn every trick in the political deck to secure the place.
